MEMORANDUM FOR:

SUBJECT: Tactical/National Intelligence Conference

1. Attached is a copy of an amended memorandum to the DCI on the subject.

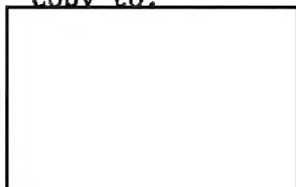

2. I would like to pursue this matter with at least enough vigor to get a conference slated for March or April. This is one way to be sure that the military are brought up to speed on what is going on. The fact that they are not doesn't speak too well for our JCS colleagues in their addressing of the tactical/national problem. You would think by now that the President's 1971 directive would have had the effect of keeping the military up to speed on this in their own interest.

3. A good military type out of the Staff should be assigned to this problem of fleshing out this proposition so that it can be put to the JCS in written form. I will look for recommendations on whether this proposition should be put to the JCS in a Colby-to-Moorer communication, or a Graham-to-Seignious communication, or any other that might seem preferable. Informal contact should be made with the national program managers and a John-the-Baptist-type trip by and a JCS colleague might also be in order (at least to CINCEUR and CINCPAC--perhaps also to SAC and NORAD).

4. The fuzzy part of this proposal, I realize, is who would say what in speaking for "tactical" resources--the Services, the Commands, or both. I will look for recommendations along these lines although they should, in fact, come from the JCS arena primarily.
